PLEASE SEE BELOW FOR SUGGESTIONS FOR THE JOURNAL ARTICLE:

Article for the MLTAQ Journal

The article (of at least 500 words) should outline something you learned at the conference and will be able to implement in your teaching.

Readers will be interested in what you gained from the conference that you will be able to apply to the context of your classroom. Something practical is always of use to other teachers. We can all benefit from different perspectives and what works in other languages can usually be adapted to one's own target language. Feel free to alter the template to suit yourself.

A template for the article is available (see below), should you wish to use it.
