

Consent to driver licence checks and disclosure of information

The NSW Department of Education through the Assisted School Travel Program (ASTP) is required to check driver licensing information for proposed and existing assisted school travel drivers. These checks cannot be made without your consent. In addition, the department may need to communicate information about those checks to the relevant contractor if the department has any concerns about the validity, currency or suitability of your driver licence arising from the driver licence check.

For the purposes of this form, the contractor refers to the individual or corporation who has agreed with the department to provide the service of assisted school travel (including the permitted assignee and legal personal representative and partners of such person where the person has entered that agreement on behalf of a partnership).
