

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
	1 Explore the history of Young Adult fiction. Why do Young Adults need their own genre?	2 Read 	3 Examine the first chapter. How does this differ from an adult novel?	4 Read 	5 How well-crafted are the characters? Are they realistic or not realistic?	6 Read
7 What would attract young adult readers to these characters? How could they relate?	8  Read	9 How does the language used appeal to young adult readers?	10  Read	11 Is the novel character or plot driven? How does this effect your reading of the novel?	12  Read	13 What themes are found in the novel? Do these reflect the experiences of young adult readers?
14 Read 	15 Start a second novel from the same author or within the same genre.	16 Read 	17 What similarities are there between the opening chapters of each of the novels?	18 Read 	19 How would this novel appeal to young adult readers? Why?	20 Read
21 What changes would be needed to shift this novel from young adult to adult fiction?	22  Read	23 Compare and contrast the two novels. Which did you prefer and why?	24  Read	25 Ready for a quick read? Find a young adult graphic novel and explore.	26  Read	27 Over afternoon tea, share your reading journey with a friend
28 Read 	29 Why does the graphic novel format appeal to young adult readers?	30 Read 	31 Choose your book for November: sentimental or nostalgia fiction

How to use this calendar: as a creative outlet, keeping your responses in a paper or electronic journal; as a prompt for writing; as a prompt for reading; as a resource to improve your literacy skills; as a teaching tool; as activities for students; as a way to explore different genres and/or creative experiences; as a prompt to write larger pieces or bodies of work; as a meditation...

October

Young Adult Fiction

Follow us! @etaqlld #etaqpd

