

The English Teachers
Association of Queensland Inc.
Providing professional support and advocacy for English teachers

NOVEMBER is International Booker Prize Longlist 2025

MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY	SUNDAY
		THE WORLD'S MOST INFLUENTIAL AWARD FOR TRANSLATED FICTION			1 The Book of Disappearance by Ibtisam Azem, translated from Arabic by Sinan Antoon	2
3 	4 On the Calculation of Volume I by Solvej Balle, translated from Danish by Barbara J. Haveland	5 	6 There's a Monster Behind the Door by Gaëlle Bélem, translated from French by Karen Fleetwood and Laëtitia Saint-Loubert	7 	8 	9
10 Heart Lamp by Banu Mushtaq, translated from Kannada by Deepa Bhasthi	11 	12 Solenoid by Mircea Cărtărescu, translated from Romanian by Sean Cotter	13 	14 Reservoir Bitches by Dahlia de la Cerda, translated from Spanish by Heather Cleary and Julia Sanches	15 	16 A Leopard-Skin Hat by Anne Serre, translated from French by Mark Hutchinson
17 	18 Hunchback by Saou Ichikawa, translated from Japanese by Polly Barton	19 Small Boat by Vincent Delecroix, translated from French by Helen Stevenson	20 	21 On a Woman's Madness by Astrid Roemer, translated from Dutch by Lucy Scott	23
24 Under the Eye of the Big Bird by Hiromi Kawakami, translated from Japanese by Asa Yoneda	25 Eurotrash by Christian Kracht, translated from German by Daniel Bowles	26 	27 Perfection by Vincenzo Latronico, translated from Italian by Sophie Hughes	28	30

Banu Mushtaq and Deepa Bhasthi have won the International Booker
Prize 2025 for *Heart
Lamp*, the first collection of short stories to win the prize