

ROSTREVOR
COLLEGE

Year 11 Captains, casting an eye to tomorrow's leaders and 2017 Prefects.

NEWSLETTER

FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear College Community

After a lengthy process we have finally determined our student leaders for 2017. This Sunday, Mr Ranaldo and I will be taking our 12 Prefects away for a three day Leadership Camp. It will be an honour to celebrate the spirit of leadership at Rostrevor College with my young brothers, the Senior Leaders of 2017. I have great confidence in these young men and have no doubt they will serve the College with distinction. Already they have made a name for themselves as dedicated students and positive role models. I hope at their graduation next year they will look back to this time and the commitments they have made with pride in a job well done.

I use the phrase "the spirit of leadership" with great intent. For that is what I believe it to be: a "spirit". It is not something that resides in the position. Leadership is not something one holds simply by holding a title: be it Prefect or Principal. These are powerful words but they are not synonymous with leadership. No, leadership is a spirit. It is a spirit that exists throughout our community. It exists in every student and teacher, every groundsman and kitchen-hand, every parent and friend to this College. Leadership is not something to be exercised or controlled through the power of the position. Leadership is something to be unleashed throughout the community. The Prefects task is clear: not to control, but to liberate; to unleash the spirit of leadership at Rostrevor College.

I read recently about the changing nature of leadership in an increasingly complex world. The writer pointed out that, even though we still look for decisive leadership, the world has reached a level of complexity that no one person or group can say they have all the answers. He writes:

"In a crisis... we call for someone with answers, decisions, strength, and a map of the future, someone who knows where we ought to be going....

- in short someone who can make hard problems simple....

Instead of looking for saviours, we should be calling for leadership that will challenge us to face problems for which there are no simple, painless solutions....

- problems that require us to learn new ways."

The Prefects of 2017, like the rest of us within this fine community, are at the cutting edge of leadership. We are at the cutting edge because we don't have all the answers. But we are the unleasers of a spirit of leadership; a spirit that invites others to contribute their gifts and talents in order to find new ways. Together we all share the responsibility to dream dreams and turn dreams to reality. And that will surely mean learning new ways. So, the challenge for our new Prefects is to be more than just the inheritors of a tradition – they are called to be the creators of our culture, the inventors of traditions; the dreamers of new ways of living out our calling to be children of God.

Winter Co-Curricular Assembly

This morning we held our Winter Co-Curricular Assembly in Purton Hall. It was an excellent Assembly, highlighting the enormous array of talent that exists in our community. Several students gave an account of their season, some particularly entertaining and again, we thank all parents, old scholars, staff and students for their contribution to this important pillar of our College. I would like to especially thank Mr Jeff Fischer and Mr Michael Hingston for their tireless work in their roles as Co-Curricular Co-ordinators.

Student Reports

Over the following few weeks teachers will be finalising assessments to determine student achievement for the term. Teachers will work with others including their Head of Faculty to confirm assessment standards through moderation activities and prepare student reports.

Reports will be available from the Parent Portal in the first week of the October holiday break. Parents are encouraged to contact subject teachers if they have concerns from the home front. Ideally, through regular contact with the school and access to your son's academic program and achievement from the Parent Portal, parents should know enough about their son's progress for there to be nothing in a term or semester report that comes as a total surprise.

Attendance

Families are reminded that students are required to attend school and all school-based activities including major College events on all designated school days. Rostrevor must account for every absence of every student and record the reason. All students who are absent from school must provide a letter/planner note from their parent or caregiver explaining the reason for the absence upon returning to school. In addition to this, students in the Senior Years who miss summative deadlines must also provide a medical certificate.

In the case of extended absence where our data shows that students have not attended school for 10% or more, the College will inform the appropriate government authority.

Find below a list of what we believe are unacceptable and acceptable reasons for absences.

Examples of acceptable reasons for student absences include:

- Sickness, including danger of being affected by an infectious or contagious disease.
- Unavoidable and sufficient cause, e.g.
- Bereavement within the family or of a close friend;
- Family trauma;
- cultural reasons; or
- Appointments that cannot be arranged out of school hours.
- Participating in school-related events / activities, e.g. VET, excursion, camp, retreats, etc.

Examples of unacceptable reasons for student absences include:

- Truancy.
- Helping at home or at parent / caregivers place of work.

Year 3 Reconciliation:

Next Wednesday evening, at the Tranmere Parish Church, we complete our annual Sacramental Program for 2016 with our year 3 boys completing the final aspect of their preparation to receive the Sacrament of Reconciliation. The Sacrament of Reconciliation is one of the most unique and beautiful aspects of Catholicism. Jesus Christ, in His abundant love and mercy, established the Sacrament of Confession, so that we as sinners can obtain forgiveness for our sins and reconcile with God and the Church. The sacrament "washes us clean," and renews us in Christ.

Please hold a place in your prayers for the young men listed below as they complete this rite of passage in their Spiritual journey in the Catholic faith;

Nicholas Babic

Rocco Calabria

Massimo Cerracchio

Salvatore Costanzo

Xavier Kelly

Rosario Merenda

Theodore Sweeney

Damon Tatarelli

Lucas Vitagliano

Alecs Zorzi

I offer what was written by John as we as a community guide the boys;

"Jesus said to them again, 'Peace be with you. As the Father has sent me, even so I send you.' And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and said to them, 'Receive the Holy Spirit. If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained'" (John 20:21-23).

Year 6 Canberra Tour 2016:

We have sent our Year 6 students off on their annual Canberra Tour earlier this week – an early start from Adelaide Airport on Tuesday morning. Apart from a delay of the departing flight to Sydney, reports are that the boys are enjoying their time away taking in the sights of the Nation's Capital.

We look forward to them returning this Friday and also to the report from Campus Captain, Cameron Tunno in the final Newsletter of this term. I'm sure you'll join me in prayer as we await their safe return.

Social Justice Initiatives 2016:

Our Campus Social Justice Leader, Joel Condo, along with Cameron Tunno and the remaining members of the Junior Student Leadership team, look forward to Term 4 when we will run our annual initiative to support those at the margins. We do this by recognising and raising awareness of the exceptional work of Edmund Rice Camps SA.

Edmund Rice Camps SA, in the tradition of Edmund Rice, aim to;

'... develop the social capacity of marginalised young people and families through a group-work based approach, by the provision of recreational activities and the engagement of young adult volunteers in community leadership.' - Edmund Rice Camps Oceania

Annual Father's Day Stall:

We offer our sincerest thanks and heartfelt gratitude to the Parents' and Friends' Association for once again supporting our, now annual, Father's Day stall recently. The team, led by Nikki Zorzi and Carla Cerracchio, produced an outstanding array of gifts for Dad's/Role models that were affordable options for the boys. This is a great way for the boys to independently and 'privately' purchase a gift to recognise the role of their Dad's and significant male role models in their lives.

On behalf of the students and parents of the Junior School and the Stepping Stones, Rostrevor Early Learning Centre, I pass on our thanks to the supportive parents who took time out to ensure the boys had this wonderful opportunity.

Junior Years' Music Night, Photos from Junior Years' Music Night, a wonderful event providing the opportunity for our boys to perform in front of a big crowd. Many thanks to Elias DeGeorge and all of the music staff and tutors for their efforts.

“This man welcomes sinners and even eats with them!”...“Rejoice with me because I have found my lost sheep...because I have found the coin that I lost...because your brother was lost and is found.” Luke 15, 1-32

There are echoes of the readings of Lent in last Sunday’s liturgy as we are invited to ponder on the forgiveness of God. For thousands of years, Jews and Christians have debated among themselves the question of how forgiving God really is. (1 Timothy 1, 15-16). The three parables in the gospel reading, taken together, are a revelation of God’s boundless love and readiness to forgive without conditions. Because of the ways in which we relate to and do business with one another, we have become conditioned to thinking and acting as though we have to earn God’s forgiveness. Today’s three parables, taken with Jesus’ preference to eat with sinners and despised tax-collectors, make the point that it is a merciful and loving God who chases after us in the first place, no matter what mistakes we have made or how we have failed. And God’s preference is for those who have the greatest need.

Our understanding of biblical shepherding has been contaminated by the sickly sweet representations of “Jesus the Good Shepherd” to which we have been exposed over a lifetime. There is nothing smelly or grubby about either the sheep or the Shepherd. In reality, the shepherds of Jesus’ time had a reputation for stealing, violence and crime. They were also expected to be strong and tough. They rarely worked alone, but in teams of three or four for protection against gangs of poachers and wild animals such as wolves. Having a team also allowed one of them to go in search of strays, while the others stayed with the flock. Rescuing a single sheep meant that the shepherd might have to carry back to the flock over fairly rugged terrain a 20 kilo struggling animal. So it’s important not to underestimate what a shepherd’s work entailed. The point of the parable is that God does whatever is required to bring back to his loving protection and care anyone who is lost or misplaced.

Having to find a small coin on the dusty, dirt floor of a poorly lit Judean house would have been a considerable challenge for any householder. A coin of any value is precious to a poor person. So the poor woman in the parable turns her hovel upside down searching for the coin lost in the dirt and dust. The point, of course, is that everyone, no matter how seemingly insignificant, is valuable to a God who will go to extremes in order to search out anyone who is lost.

The third parable is probably the most inaccurately titled story in the whole Bible, for it is the missing son’s father who is prodigal and lavish in his love; who forgives his wayward boy and joyfully welcomes him home even before the boy can carry out his resolution to ask for forgiveness and acceptance. The father’s generosity and largeness of heart are in marked contrast to the elder son who cannot even bring himself to call the home-comer “brother”. Instead, he angrily labels him with the cutting remark “this son of yours”. The father of the parable is the model of forgiveness that Jesus holds out to his audience, his disciples and to us.

These three parables throw light on what is behind the complaint of the Pharisees at the very beginning of today’s gospel: “This man welcomes sinners and even eats with them.” Judean society in the time of Jesus was very clannish and tribal. People ate and drank only with those who belonged to their social rank. The Pharisees are scandalized by Jesus’ openness to associate and eat with the outcasts of society. Jesus challenges their prejudice by daring to mix with the broken and rejected. And he adds to their discomfort by inviting them to imagine themselves as shepherds, as members of the underbelly of society. Having disturbed their comfort, he challenges them to examine their capacity to forgive and to open their closed hearts. That challenge is directed equally to us.

Rock and Water Camp 2016

One of the many positive initiatives undertaken at Rostrevor College to promote and foster student wellbeing is the Rock and Water program. The program was developed by Dutch educator and author Freerk Ykema, and has been taught to over 15,000 teachers and youth workers in Australia since 1998. Today, more than 35,000 teachers in 14 countries have trained approximately 2 million students.

Basically, the Rock and Water program at Rostrevor is a course that is delivered after school to students in junior, middle and senior years. A series of exercises and games are practised to develop confidence and self-reflection. The games are martial arts based, and students learn to block, hit strike shields, stand strong, negotiate using "rock" or "water" verbal approaches, walk away from a fight, consider alternatives to aggression, and develop understandings about who they are, their intuitive feelings and their personal direction.

Many thanks to Mr Tony Purvis, Mr Tom Fleming and Mr Michael Hingston who deliver the program and coordinated the camp which was run over a 4 day period at Iron Knob (just outside of Whyalla) in conjunction with SAPOL.

Photos - Of the various activities from last weeks Rock & Water camp used to further develop confidence and self-reflection

The following is a brief summary of some of the highlights as shared by Mr Tony Purvis

Eddie the Eagle was the inspirational movie the night before our disparate group plunged off the 40 metre cliff. The safety rope worked over time as some bounced rather than belayed their way down the precipice.

But the end point was always the same...an adrenaline fuelled scream of excitement as fear lay conquered.

Eighteen students from Years 6 to 11 had come together to push their limits in high ropes activities, problem solving and orienteering. Jack Williams and Luke Beltrame earned the carabiner award for outstanding efforts on camp. I was tagged as the easiest kill in the night activity of Laser Skirmish, evidently my blue and white top was a poor choice amongst the black camouflage of the experienced Gen Z warriors.

Ben Murphy, Ryan Carey, Shayden De Been, Patrick Steen and Luke Hornhardt were the old hands who took on leadership roles at camp under the pastoral eye of Mr Michael Hingston and Mr Tom Fleming. The boys have come back enriched from the experience and ready to conquer new challenges closer to home.
