

COME DISCOVER A MILLION REASONS TO SAY YES!

What do you look for in a weekend away? Have you been searching for a more meaningful weekend away, where you feel liberated and full of life, rather than exhausted, jet-lagged and sunburnt when you return to the hustle of everyday life? There are a million reasons to say yes to a Lasallian Vocations Weekend away. Two days of fun and friendship – a chance to reflect and revitalise our connections with each other. We all have our unique gifts to bring to the table – this weekend away will give you an opportunity to extend those gifts to a community of like-minded, fun-loving people, all while being inspired by Lasallian leaders and volunteers. The weekend is overflowing with community vibrancy and outreach. It is an informal and relaxing chance to enhance your connection with your faith, in an exciting and open community. There's a million reasons to say yes this year – yes to service, yes to discovering the community of love and support around you, yes to the fulfilling life of loving and being loved by others. The weekend will leave you energetic, open and excited.

To say YES and register, contact:

Br Garry Coyte (admin@delasalle.org.au) to secure your spot!

There's a million reasons to say yes! Discover and deepen your faith at the Lasallian Vocation Weekends.

The Sydney
vocation weekends takes place in Phillip Island
in Victoria on September 20-22.

If there are a million reasons to say yes, are there really any reasons to say no?