

March 20, 2020

Good afternoon,

The COVID-19 pandemic is evolving hourly. Extreme “social distancing” measures have taken hold nation-wide, and this has already caused dramatic consequences to all the social service agencies in Halton.

Our staffing numbers are decreasing due to the 14-day isolation rule from out of country travel. Additionally, our employees are trying to manage their own family issues with day cares and schools now closed.

At Community Living Burlington, we are doing our best to keep the continuity of support stable for everyone. We have instilled new rules for visitors at the homes as of today.

Until the COVI 19 Pandemic ends, we will not be able to have family and friends visit our homes at Community Living Burlington. We need to protect the people we support and our employee. I understand that this is going to be difficult for everyone but it is the best solution based on Ministry of Health recommendations.

We will assist families to call, Skype, Facetime and Whatsapp with their loved ones.

Community Living Burlington appreciates your support and we will continue to send out information to the membership and stakeholders as things change and evolve.

Sincerely,

Judy Pryde
