

Joy

Joy attended the practice with concerns about her upper front crowns which were a combination of metal and porcelain. The margins where the tooth meets the gumline were starting to recede and discolour. Joy had her old crowns replaced with all ceramic crowns which not only look better, but also provide a better contour near the gumline.