

Peter

Peter's upper front tooth was cracked and unable to be saved. He chose to have the tooth removed and replaced with an implant and porcelain crown. While there is some gum staining from the previous infection, the result is a strong, stable tooth that fits naturally into his smile.