

Susan

Susan attended the practice with areas of decay all around her mouth and failing crown and bridge work on her upper teeth. Due to the extent of the damage, the best option was to remove all the remaining upper teeth and fabricate a full upper denture. The decay was removed in the lower teeth and they were restored with composite resin restorations. The teeth were cleaned and a new partial lower denture was fabricated to replace the missing lower teeth.

