Pedagogical Principles

During 2019 and 2020, we have been deepening our understandings of the significant principles that drive and inspire learning and wellbeing at Antonio.

A community of learners where everyone matters...and matters absolutely.

Our principles are valued by staff, students and families and support our work to achieve thriving people, capable learners, leaders for the world God desires (LLL Framework).

We value relationships

At Antonio we value building and maintaining constructive relationships that support learning and wellbeing. These relationships involve staff, students, parents and carers.

We are active, skilled teachers and learners

At Antonio we respect and empower the role of students, staff and parents to teach and learn as active participants in the learning process.

We share high expectations

We have high expectation of ourselves, each other and our students at Antonio.

To achieve thriving people, capable learners, leaders for the world God desires we bring together our pedagogical principles, the LLL Framework and the voice of the students, teachers, community, curriculum and environment.

Living Learning Leading Framework

These draft principles will be refined as we research and collaborate with students and the community in the first semester of 2020.

Many blessings to you and your family for a wonderful fortnight ahead full of learning.
