ACCPYN (Australian College of Children and Young People's Nurses)

Griffith University School of Nursing and Midwifery was the platinum sponsor of the ACCPYN Annual Scientific Meeting, held at the new Perth Children's Hospital, with a booth manned by Dr Elizabeth Forster and Dr Helen Petsky. Many PATTERN members attended, and presented, including Dr Robyn Penny, Dr Jacqui Jauncey-Cooke, Dr Adrienne Hudson, and Dr Amanda Ullman. It was great to see so many paediatric nursing researchers together, sharing ideas.

Dr Robyn presenting

News

Dr Victoria Kain visited Rwanda and taught 'Helping Babies Breathe' to midwives and HCW from Rwanda, Tanzania and further afield. She will talk about this Program at our next PATTERN meetings and potential research project.

Dr Victoria also visited a local NICU/SCN where the night duty nurse:baby ratio can be as high as 1:35 - can you imagine? Most babies get vitals done once a night. The experience has been very confronting. We are so very lucky in Australia ... Vicki

Upcoming PATTERN events

Our next meeting is on December Tuesday 4th December at 10:00 am - 11:00 am, at the Centre for Children's Health Research (across the road from the Lady Cilento Children's Hospital). So if you are interested in joining a network of paediatric nurses aiming to improve health outcomes for children through collaboration and innovation, please let us know (PATTERN@griffith.edu.au) and come along to a network meeting.

* When: Tuesday 4/12/2018, 10:00am - 11:00am

* Where: CCHR Room 802 (meet in lobby)

* Or Teleconference: (07) 3735 0811 PIN0852#

Please bring some Christmassy food. Let's get into the festive spirit.

After the Storm: Parenting after family violence

The Australian Childhood Foundation is offering After the Storm: Parenting after family violence. The workshop builds on a framework of the neurobiology of toxic stress and trauma as well as a hope-based resourcing model that acknowledges and builds on relational strengths. It is suitable for all practitioners working with families who have experienced family violence. This one day workshop explores all of these elements and supports practitioners to work in a child focused and relationally reparative context with parents and children following experiences of family violence. For more information or to register go to The Australian Childhood Foundation.

Workshop : Attracting funding and support for program evaluation

As governments and other funders increasingly demand to see a return on their investment, the importance of evaluation of projects and programs to improve the wellbeing of children has never been more important. Speakers at this event will outline how to form evaluation partnerships to navigate the changing environment in which all funders (governments, philanthropic and corporate) are demanding more accountability, and more proof that their money is having a real and positive impact on the lives of young Australians. Attendees will have the opportunity for face-to-face networking in roundtables with funders and evaluators.

Date 30 November, 2018

Time : 9.00am-1.00pm

Venue : Parkville, Melbourne, VIC

After the Storm: Parenting after family violence

The Australian Childhood Foundation is offering After the Storm: Parenting after family violence. The workshop builds on a framework of the neurobiology of toxic stress and trauma as well as a hope-based resourcing model that acknowledges and builds on relational strengths. It is suitable for all practitioners working with families who have experienced family violence. This one day workshop explores all of these elements and supports practitioners to work in a child focused and relationally reparative context with parents and children following experiences of family violence. For more information or to register go to The Australian Childhood Foundation.
