SCHOOL POLICY

St Joseph's School, Ottoway

Reviewed: Term 3, 2024

Next Review Due: Term 3, 2027

PHILOSOPHICAL BASIS

An individual's privacy is important.

Every individual who is employed or becomes associated in any way with a Catholic school needs to be respected and have their personal details protected from scrutiny from other members of the organisation, other than on a 'needs to know' basis.

AIM

To protect the private information of each person at St Joseph's School (the school) from unauthorised access.

OBJECTIVE

Personal Information – collection and use [Catholic Education Office (CEO) and the school]

The type of information the school collects and holds includes (but is not limited to) personal information, including sensitive information, about:

- students and their parents/caregivers (parents) before, during and after the course of a student's enrolment at a school
- job applicants, staff members, volunteers and contractors, and
- other people who come into contact with the school

Personal Information provided by an individual

The school will generally collect personal information held about an individual by way of forms, filled out by parents or students, face-to-face meetings and interviews, and telephone calls. The school also collects information through data transfer from schools.

Personal Information provided by other people

In some circumstances the school may be provided with personal information about an individual from a third party, for example, a report provided by a medical professional or a reference from another school.

Exception in relation to employee records

This Privacy Policy does not apply, and the National Privacy Principles do not bind the school, in relation to the school's treatment of an employee record, where the treatment is directly related to the current or former employment relationship between the school and the employee.

How the school uses the personal information an individual provides

The school will use personal information it collects from an individual for the primary purpose of collection, and for such other secondary purposes that are related to the primary purpose of collection and reasonably expected, or to which an individual has consented.

Students and Parents:

For personal information about students and parents, the school's primary purpose of collection is to enable the school to provide schooling for the student. This includes satisfying both the needs of parents and the needs of the student throughout the whole period the student is enrolled at the school.

The purposes for which the school uses personal information of students and parents include:

- to keep parents informed about matters relating to their child's schooling, through correspondence, newsletters and magazines
- day-to-day administration
- to look after students' educational, social, spiritual and medical well-being
- to seek donations and marketing for the school
- to refer unpaid debts to a debt collection agency
- to contribute to aggregated data that the CEO or the South Australian Commission for Catholic Schools Inc (SACCS) may require from time to time to meet their reporting, planning, contract and funding responsibilities on behalf of schools
- to satisfy Catholic Church Endowment Society Inc (CCES)/CEO's and the school's legal obligations and allow the school to discharge its duty of care

In some cases where the school requests personal information about a student or parent, if the information requested is not obtained, the school may not be able to enrol or continue the enrolment of the student.

Job applicants, staff members and contractors:

For personal information about job applicants, staff members and contractors, the school's primary purpose of collection is to assess and (if successful) to engage the applicant, staff member or contractor, as the case may be.

The purposes for which the school uses personal information of job applicants, staff members and contractors include:

- to administer the individual's employment or contract (as the case may be)
- for insurance purposes
- to seek funds and marketing for the school

- to contribute to aggregated data that SACCS and the CEO use to meet their reporting, planning, contract and funding responsibilities
- to enable SACCS and the CEO to maintain necessary staff information for entitlements including long service leave, maternity leave, Workcover and other necessary industrial or employment purposes and for accreditation and funding purposes
- to satisfy CCES/CEO's and the Schools' legal obligations (for example, in relation to child protection legislation)

Volunteers:

The school also obtains personal information about volunteers who assist the school in its functions or conduct associated activities, such as Parents & Friends and Old Scholars Associations, to enable the school and the volunteers to work together.

Marketing and fundraising:

The school treats marketing and seeking donations for the future growth and development of the school as an important part of ensuring that the school continues to be a quality learning environment in which both students and staff thrive. Personal information held by the school may be disclosed to an organisation that assists in the school's fundraising, for example, the Parents & Friends Association.

Parents, staff, contractors and other members of the wider school community may from time to time receive fundraising information. School publications, like newsletters and magazines, which include personal information, may be used for marketing purposes.

The Privacy Act allows each diocesan school in the Archdiocese of Adelaide to share personal information with other diocesan schools within the diocese. This allows schools to transfer information between them, for example, when a pupil transfers from one school operated by CCES/CEO to another school conducted by CCES/CEO. It also allows schools to transfer information to the CEO.

Recipients of Personal Information from the School

The school may disclose personal information (including sensitive information) held about an individual to:

- another school operated by CCES/CEO
- a school within the Diocese of Port Pirie
- the CEO in South Australia
- SACCS
- a Congregational School
- Catholic Church Insurances
- government departments
- the local parish
- people providing services to the school (including specialist visiting teachers, consultants and sports coaches)
- recipients of school publications, like newsletters and magazines
- parents, and

- anyone to whom the individual authorises the school to disclose information

Sometimes the school may ask individuals to consent to some disclosures or uses of personal information for certain purposes, either in writing or verbally. In other cases, consent may be implied.

Sending information overseas:

The school will not send personal information about an individual outside Australia without:

- obtaining the consent of the individual (in some cases this consent will be implied) or
- otherwise complying with the National Privacy Principles

Treatment of Sensitive Information

'Sensitive information' means information relating to a person's racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religion, trade unions or other professional or trade association membership, sexual preferences or criminal record, that is also personal information and health information about an individual.

Sensitive information will be used and disclosed only for the purpose for which it was provided or a directly related secondary purpose, unless the individual agrees otherwise, or the use or disclosure of the sensitive information is allowed by law.

Management and security of personal information

The school staff are required to respect the confidentiality of students' and parents' personal information and the privacy of individuals.

The school has in place steps to protect the personal information held from misuse, loss, unauthorised access, modification or disclosure by use of various methods, including locked storage of paper records and passworded access rights to computerised records.

Updating personal information

The school endeavours to ensure that the personal information it holds is accurate, complete and up-to-date. A person may seek to update their personal information held by contacting the Principal, at any time. The National Privacy Principles require the school not to store personal information longer than necessary.

Rights of Individuals to their Personal Information

Under the Privacy Act 1988, individuals may seek access to any personal information that the school holds about them and to advise of any perceived inaccuracy. There are some exceptions to this right set out in the Privacy Act 1988. Students will generally have access to their personal information through their parents.

For individuals to make a request to access any information the school holds about them, they should contact the Principal in writing.

The school may require individuals to verify their identity and specify what information they require. A fee may be charged to cover the cost of verifying the individual's application and locating, retrieving, reviewing and copying any material requested. If the information sought is extensive, the individual will be advised of the likely cost in advance.

Consent and rights of access to the personal information of students

The school respects every parent's right to make decisions concerning their child's education. Generally, the school will refer any requests for consent and notices in relation to the personal information of a student to the student's parents. The school will treat consent given by parents as consent given on behalf of the student, and notice to parents will act as notice given to the student.

Parents may seek access to personal information held by the school about them or their child by contacting the Principal. However, there will be occasions when access is denied. Such occasions would include where release of the information would have an unreasonable impact on the privacy of others, or where the release may result in a breach of the school's duty of care to the student.

The school may, at its discretion, on the request of a student, grant that student access to information held by the school about them, or allow a student to give or withhold consent to the use of their personal information, independently of their parents. This would normally be done only when the student involved had reached 18 years of age, but the school could do so in other circumstances when the maturity of the student and/or the student's personal circumstances so warranted.

Enquiries

For further information about the way the CEO or the school manages the personal information it holds, contact should be made with the Director or the Principal respectively.
